

DAMANHUR, in partnership with GAIA EDUCATION, presents

ECOVILLAGE DESIGN EDUCATION

TRAINING FOR SUSTAINABILITY

August 5 – September 2, 2017

Gaia Education is an active member of UNESCO's Global Action Programme on Education for Sustainable Development. The UNESCO GAP on ESD is a global effort to generate and scale up action in all levels and areas of education and learning to accelerate progress towards sustainable development.

Damanhur is a Key Partner in the implementation of the Global Action Programme on Education for Sustainable Development.

The EDE was born out of the experiences of long existing communities and cutting edge educators in order to teach how to create a new way of living which brings together the four key dimensions of sustainability: social, cultural/worldview, ecological and economic.

Spend a month in close contact with one of the world's most successful communities: Damanhur has been a center for spiritual, artistic and social research since 1975 and is renowned throughout the world for the Temples of Humankind, an underground work of art, completely realized by hand.

GOALS OF THIS COURSE

- social tools for leadership, participatory decision making, group building, conflict solving...
- a holistic education in the four dimensions of sustainability
- exploring solutions and experiencing effective models to transform society
